The woman mayor of Daytona Beach announces that she isn't going to talk. Prarie Allah!

"Palm Beach Lifts All Restrictions on Bathing Suits," headline. Come to Palm Beach!

Now the president's South American trip and the Spanish revolution can get back on the front pages.

Fort Myers News-Press pertinently asks what country that was Lindbergh went to to avoid publicity.

"It will be a long time before the seasonal, history-making, developments of last week are topped."

After the storm, the hull! All newspapers could do this week was sit back and wonder why nothing would happen.

PUT THE SINCLAIR DINOSAUR TO WORK ON YOUR FARM

Sinclair engineers have found that, generally speaking, the older a crude oil is the tougher the lubricant it makes.
The Sinclair Dinosaur symbolizes the fact that the crudes made into Sinclair Lubricants are among the oldest ever discovered. Because of their extra toughness, you'll find they increase the working life of your farm equipment... prevent costly breakdowns.

We will gladly look over your lubrication and fuel requirements and supply you, from our tank truck, with oil, greases, gasolines and kerosene, correctly designed for each particular job. We also sell Sinclair Stock Spray and 2-D. Insect Spray. All our products bear the Sinclair guarantee of quality. Just phone or write.

NATION IS 'OVER THE HILL' Apparently the mystic "crisis has been turned and the nation is again on the way to prosperous times. News dispatches in recent weeks have carried many stories of dividends being declared and bonuses paid to workers. The records show a major increase in construction work, and permits for buildings in Florida are greatly on the increase. While permits for the past few years have been confined chiefly to alterations and repairs, they now show a majority for construction of new buildings.
At the moment the principal increases are being shown in the resort cities, where additional housing for tourists is needed, but the interior cities are also showing improvement.

Refreshing Relief
When You Need a Laxative Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-draught, which makes life so economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. — Mr. J. Lester Robinson, well known hardware dealer at Mar-tinsville, Va., writes: "I certainly can recommend it. I have taken it for constipation and the full strength that follows, and have found it very satisfactory."

SALES TAX SENTIMENT Speaking of the sales tax which some people inevitable as a major piece of legislation in the next Florida legislature, it is interesting to note that in the recent election, the voters of the state voted against an amendment providing a sales tax on food in that state; Idaho repended a two percent sales tax and adopted an amendment prohibiting sales taxes in the future; and in Mississippi a proposed amendment which would have placed the sales tax in the constitution was defeated. — Sanford

OCTOBER BUILDING IN- CREASES 1 P. C. ABOVE

October building measured by the value of permits issued showed an increase over September of more than 4 per cent, according to Secretary of Labor Perkins.
The increase, says the report issued last month, in the value of permits issued was shared by six of nine geographic divisions, with gains registered in the value of new residential buildings, new non-residential buildings and additions, alterations and repairs to existing structures.
Compared with October, 1932, all types of building construction showed decided gains. Mrs. Perkins said. "The value of residential buildings for which permits were issued increased 66 per cent; non-residential buildings, 11 per cent; and additions, alterations and repairs, 22 per cent. The value of all buildings for which permits were issued during the month was more than 35 per cent greater than for October, 1932." During the first 10 months of 1933 permits were issued for building in cities with a population of 10,000 or over, valued at $11,167,723.00. This represents a gain of 67 per cent over the first 10 months of 1932. The value of new residential buildings for which permits were issued during these months amounted to $59,852,000, an increase of 119 per cent. Over the same period, the value of new non-residential buildings increased 14 per cent, and the value of additions, alterations, and repairs, 32 per cent.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY
By Russell Kay.
The book of the month, as far as Florida is concerned, seems to be "Gone With the Wind," the latest of the state jobs and tells how much they pay.
It is proving mighty helpful to a lot of folks who have been wanting a job, but didn't exactly know which one. Now all they got to do is just run down the list and check off the plums that appear most inviting.
During the past couple weeks I've had letters from a dozen guys and personal visits from a flock of others asking if I would mind writing a letter to Fred about 'em, or if I will run up and see him personally and put in a good word they'll be glad to pay my expenses.
The funny part of it is these appeals for the most part come from guys I never heard of. Of course I gettin' old and my memory ain't what it used to be, visitors and their increased spending ability it is estimated that the revenue in the state from this source this winter will be 40 per cent over last year.

Some alarm is expressed over the increasing number of trailer travelers in the state, because they pay no rent or taxes, own no home, but they do have to use electricity, and spend money in many other ways, and Arcadia has reason to know that they are a very valuable asset to a community for we have had a lot of them here each winter for many years. Florida certainly cannot afford to do anything that would go against the interest of this type of tourist. Most of them could not be able to come down here at all if they could not find a way to eat, expenses, and they would want them to come.—The Arcadian.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

"I don't doubt that," I say,
"but what gave you the crazy idea that a letter from me is gonna do you any good?"
"Aw, you got influence," he comes back at me. "Them politicians always listen to the newspaper guys. You just speak a good word to the governor for me and I'll see you don't lose nothin' by it."
Well, it's all very flattering and all that, but at the same time I've learned that influence is something a fellow thinks he's got until he tries to use it, and as far as we have in mind with Mr. Fred and me, you that's a sure 'nuff laugh.

To tell the truth, I don't know anyone who has a whole lot of so-called influence with the gentleman from Lake City, as near as I been able to learn. It seems that Mr. Cline is a respect of "influence." When it comes to making appointments I got an idea that Fred will do a whole lot of personal private thinking about it and if anybody has the idea they can high-pressure him with a stack of letters and telegrams personal appeals, they're just buildin' themselves up for a grand and glorious gob of disappointment.

But gettin' back to Colonel Lee's book: since the most exciting chapters have already been revealed in serial form by the Tax Revision League, it wasn't anywhere near as startlin' as it might have been. I imagine some collection agencies will find it handy for reference.

It will make some guys wonder why they wanted their time studying 'em. Practically every one personally that went out and dragged in the handful of extra votes that won the election. Of course they don't know Fred personally, but they were worked for him and if it hadn't been for them and so forth.

Then they drag out the book and show me on page 30 and so, the job they want. "Lookit," they say, "it pays a hummer and fifty bucks a month and I know the guy that's got it now and he don't do nothin' and you tell Fred he'll give me the job I'll guarantee to do twice as much as that bird does."

IF YOU CAN'T BE THERE — Telephone!

A gift that you know will be welcome, is a long distance telephone call to those friends and relatives in other cities whom you cannot visit in person during the holidays.

Such a gift, you will find, really rewards the giver with as much pleasure as it does the one who receives.

If you want to make certain the party you wish to reach will be at the telephone, notify them in advance of the day and hour of your call, and use the lower cost Station-to-Station service.

Express your holiday greetings in your own voice. You will find a "long distance" telephone call is quick, personal, low in cost. Ask the operator for rates to anywhere.

FORD advances into 1937 with the LOWEST PRICE IN YEARS and new operating economy

THE ADDITION of a new 60-horsepower engine to the Ford line for 1937 brings you a new, low price and gives you a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines. 85-horsepower for maximum performance. 60-horsepower for maximum economy.

The 60-horsepower V-8 engine was originally developed for use in England and France, where fuel costs are high. It has been proven there for two years with brilliant success.
Now, brought to America, it creates an entirely new standard of modern motoring economy!

The "60" engine, available in five body types, is built in exactly the same body size and wheelbase — to the same advanced design — with the same comfort and convenience as the "85." And it delivers V-8 smoothness at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

Two engine sizes—but only one car and one purpose—to give you more miles and more satisfaction for your money in 1937.

SOUTH BAY NEWS

Mrs. F. W. Mitchell, handicraft chairman, presided over an all-day work meeting of the Women's Home Demonstration club at the Health Center Thursday. A covered dish luncheon was served. Christmas gifts were made. Those attending included Mrs. W. H. Rawle, Mrs. P. E. Goodhead, Mrs. E. M. VanLandingham, Mrs. H. C. Willis, Mrs. G. J. Barstow, Miss Irene Dawson, Mrs. J. W. Ransley, Mrs. S. E. Campbell, Mrs. Page S. Campbell and Mrs. Maude Hayline.

The Girl Scouts were entertained at a reception at the home of Mrs. Helen Rawley in honor of her birthday on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Laura Willis, captain, directed a number of games. Those attending included Margaret Hayes, Thelma Aly, Norma McCord, Ruth Barstow, Lela Fisher, Elsie Mae Willis, Eleanor Ruth and Quinon Walker.

Winter Haven Orange Festival Must Have Queen

WINTER HAVEN, Dec. 17.—(PNS)—The management of the Florida Orange Festival, which will be held in this city Jan. 18 to 23, next, must have a queen to preside over the many social functions which will feature the week of festivities which have been planned.

To that end, the service and civic clubs, including women's clubs and Junior and Senior chambers of commerce in all the counties comprising the Florida citrus belt, have been asked to sponsor one or more candidates for royal honors. In addition to the queen, six maids of honor will be chosen as members of the queen's court. It is prescribed that candidates must be sponsored by a recognized organization, must be unmarried and possessed of beauty, poise, charm and other characteristics which will impress the judges. Another rule is that the contestants or candidate wear conventional evening gowns.

There is no idea of making the affair a "bathing beauty contest." There will be a departure from the time honored custom of selecting the queen and members of her court a week or 10 days in advance of the opening of the festival, in that the selection, this time, will be made on the opening night of the festival—Monday night, Jan. 18, at 8:00 o'clock—on the great open air stage on the shores of Lake Silver, on the festival grounds. This gives the general public an opportunity to participate as spectators, at least, in the very colorful pageantry which always has been a feature of the spectacle.

Following the ceremony of selecting the queen and her court and their escorts and chaperones as well as all other contestants and their escorts and chaperones, will be the greatest of the festival management at a ball, probably in the ballroom of the Winter Haven Civic club.

MEMORIAL TO JOHN RINGLING IN SARASOTA

SARASOTA, Dec. 17.—(PNS)—A $200,000 memorial to the late John Ringling, the John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art, his paternal Sarasota home, "The Flamingo," and a trust fund to provide for the future development of the two establishments were bequeathed to the state of Florida by terms of the circus magnate's will made public this week.

Under the terms of the will, the home will be converted into a part of the museum for exhibition of Venetian art and paintings. The name of the museum is never to be changed. And sale or exchange of any paintings contained in the collection is forbidden. The trust fund for improvement and maintenance of the collection amounts to one-half of the remainder of the estate of the late of the Ringling Brothers.

Providing for the possibility of the state refusing the bequest or any of its terms, the museum and home will pass to the city of Sarasota on the same conditions. Plans for the final burial place of John Ringling and his first wife, in a medieval crypt under a terrace at the back of the museum overlooking Sarasota Bay and the Gulf, were announced from the office of the architect of the museum, the shadow of the vast Rockefeller Center buildings in New York.

The crypt, following the ideas of Mr. Ringling, will have a high vaulted ceiling in gold and mosaic and will be guarded by huge, bronze doors. On top of the marble tomb will be placed a reclining marble figure such as those seen in European cathedrals.

The ceremony of crowning the queen and the installation of her court will be held on the open air stage the night of Jan. 20, and will be followed by a dance. A number of organizations already have signified their intention of sponsoring candidates for the honor of presiding over the social functions incident to the festival.

FARMER PLAYS SANTA CLAUS TO CHILDREN

CLINTON, Mo.—Santa Claus is a thin man.
Ask any of the 2,000 school children in Clinton county. They can prove it.

Also—
He's tall; 6 feet, 9 inches; has a special mirror so he can tie his tie without stooping; sleeps in a bed a foot longer than the standard size.

He believes even the poorest, shivering little girl would rather have a doll to cuddle than a sweater to warm herself.

And, above all, Santa does not have a beard—as you might gather from his real name, Raleigh A. Shaver.

Mr. Shaver, who owns 1,500 acres of farm land, has given away $40,000 worth of toys in the past 31 years. Using a real wagon in lieu of a sleigh, he arrives at the school house and puts a "sample" of each present against the wall. Each child picks what he wants—and gets it, from the wagon outside.

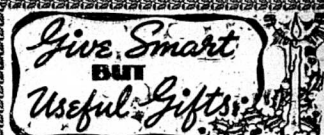

"One Christmas, as I distributed my gifts, it was very cold," Farmer Shaver said.
"It was a very school house was a little girl who had no covering for her hands, and that morning coming to school on a road exposed to the wintry blast, her fingers were badly frost-bitten. I had mittens and gloves, but do you think that girl took a pair? No, sir. She selected from the pile of gifts a doll and hugged it to her as she went back to the seat."

So Shaver quit giving anything but toys.

He is proud that his gifts "cost me" wholesale an average of $2 apiece." In years past he has visited 63 country schools on Christmas.

He's sorry he will be able to visit only six this year but expects confidently a pick-up in the cattle business to send him 11 around to all 63 again next year.

Why does he do it?
"Well, I have never had children of my own," he explained. "As I prospered in life, I saw that it would be foolish for me to hoard up more than I needed or to waste it in useless extravagances. I spent a good deal of time planning how to make money but I also made up my mind that a man ought to spend as much serious thought on how to use his money as on how to make it. I have a 'share-your-wealth' philosophy of life."

BEANS, TOMATOES

"What is that magic, stuff my neighbor uses? He picks speckled beans, ships them and gets returns," asked grower of his dealer. The answer is—"Sulfocid." Its value has been proven by 30 years continuous use by Florida vegetable growers.

Dip all beans in Sulfocid. Before spray with Sulfocid, and you will have no speckled beans.

Florida Experiment Station Press Bulletin #484 reports that dipping tomatoes, when picked, in Sulfocid reduces rots to a minimum. Spray Tomatoes, Beans, Strawberries, picking, wash or dip in Sulfocid. The coat is insignificant—less than the cost of the labor. The returns are many hundredfold.

showed 8,231 white pupils, and 4,338 in negro schools, an increase of more than 500 over the preceding month and also higher than for the corresponding period a year ago.

The school board designated the Central Farmers Bank and Trust company, West Palm Beach Atlantic National Bank, and the First National Bank in Palm Beach as official depositories for school funds. No other qualified banks totaling $5,000, posted by the Bank of Pahokee as collateral, and not being used, was ordered repaid to the bank.

The Home Demonstration club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Doyle Crocker, with Mrs. A. C. Graham presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. H. C. Graham. Discussions were held on Christmas gift handicrafts, and a book review of "How to Live 24 Hours a Day," was presented by Mrs. R. Barrus. Mrs. Opal Perkins was elected president, succeeding Mrs. Graham, whose new duties in the post office prevent her from serving. The Christmas motif was carried out in the refreshments consisting of mince meat and not cookies, cherry punch and crystallized fruit which were served to Mrs. Earl Meredith, Mrs. A. Phillips, Mrs. Ruben Crews, Mrs. Raymond Carruthers, Mrs. S. J. Jones, Mrs. Charles Perkins and others.

As of Oct. 1, 1936, there were 737 municipal airports in the United States, of which 254 had night lighting equipment.

Ten per cent of the crops in the United States are consumed by insects every year.

GARDEN CLUB MET WITH

MRS. McLAITY

The Community Garden club met at the home of Mrs. G. C. McLarty on Tuesday, December 15, with Mrs. A. E. Hansen as hostess. The president, Mrs. H. M. McIntosh, presided. Following routine business, the meeting turned over to Mrs. R. T. Gibson, program chairman, who in turn introduced Mrs. W. P. Jernigan. Mrs. Jernigan read several very interesting legends concerning the origin of mistletoe, holly and poinsettias as Christmas decorations. She also gave a very inspirational talk on methods of making Christmas wreaths from native evergreens, demonstrating same with wreaths previously made.

Mrs. H. L. Lapp gave a very interesting discourse on Christmas lighting, introducing some novel and instructive ideas on the subject. The club voted to give prizes for the two most outstanding Christmas trees. One of $5.00 for a tree on the lawn (not necessarily a live tree) and one of $3.00 for a tree on the porch. Contestants will please file their names with Mrs. Frank Bass or Mrs. H. M. McIntosh not later than December 22, as judging will be on the 23rd and 24th.

Refreshments of hot chocolate and wafers were served to the following: Mrs. H. L. Spear, Mrs. L. Lapp, Mesdames, R. T. Gibson, W. P. Jernigan, T. M. Dechman, C. C. Coburn, J. V. Fourny, W. C. Young, H. L. Rosenberg, J. S. Harrington, H. L. Lapp, A. H. Hansen, G. C. McLarty, G. Lawton Sims, L. C. Goolsby, George Kingsley, R. G. Johnson, Jr., V. C. Denton, J. M. Elliott, L. E. Pope, H. L. Spear, H. A. Anderson, Laura Staples, George Bekk, H. M. McIntosh.

The time of meeting has been changed for the winter months from 3:00 p. m. to 2:30 p. m. Mrs. H. L. Rosenberg and Mrs. G. Lawton Sims will be joint hostesses to the club on January 19, at the home of Mrs. Rosenberg.

Sponner, Wolfe, Dams and Sapp stood out offensively for the Blue Devils.

In McQuig the visitors presented one of the fastest changes in back to, convert on Lair field this season. The line plunging of Hard and wide end running of Walters were constant threats while Whaley was outstanding in the line. St. Cloud played the entire game with 12 men, making only one substitute near the end of the game.

Hardly, if ever, has the atmosphere of a game so decidedly changed between halves as did this one. Spectators and players appeared listless and dead the first half. But in that last half the stands went wild as one nerve-racking development after another unfolded.

The game Friday night marked the end of the season for Coach Frank Hobbs' boys. Despite the fact that every game has not been chalked up as a victory for the Blue Devils, they have enjoyed a successful season. Their schedule has been a hard one but they have come through with pride and glory on each occasion.

Seniors who saw their last service with the team Friday night were Adrian Doyle, Kenny Mock, Joe Wolf, Arthur Larimore, Jim Boardley, Lake Coleman and Arthur Sponner.
